

ABM Sponsors Women in Leadership Keynote at VenueConnect 2019

New York, NY – July 17, 2019 – ABM, a leading provider of facility solutions, is proud to sponsor the Women in Leadership keynote at VenueConnect 2019. Best-selling author and sociologist Bertice Berry, Ph.D., will present “Putting You Center Stage” to an audience of venue management innovators and leaders in Chicago as part of the International Association of Venue Managers event scheduled for Wednesday, July 24th at 9:30 AM.

Dr. Berry will speak to challenges women face as leaders today and the clear opportunities that businesses miss without women in higher positions. Award-winning lecturer Dr. Berry will also share how venue managers should take the “center stage” of leadership because of the profound importance of shared events and activities in our communities. “Humans become human when they come together to experience sports, the arts, and humanities,” says Dr. Berry on the IAVM schedule for the event.

“I’ve had the privilege of introducing the Women in Leadership keynote previously,” said Erin Fazio, Business Development Manager, who will introduce the keynote for ABM again this year. “I’m looking forward to hearing how my colleagues plan to add Dr. Berry’s insights to their own stories of growth, work-life balance, and leadership.”

ABM will be sharing facility strategies with venue leaders to help them achieve goals for their venues, audiences, and communities. Visit the team at booth 835 or contact them at ABM.com/VC19.
