

5 Reasons Maintenance and LEDs Go Together

November 17, 2017
By Scott Tapia

An improving economy, more competitive marketplace, and environmental concerns have made it much harder for maintenance and engineering managers to continue to satisfy occupants and keep buildings occupied. But to remain successful in this dynamic environment, managers need to do just that. Updated lighting can be the answer. Why? A well-lit facility is more aesthetically pleasing, comfortable, and safe, making it more attractive to tenants.
